The original, in New York's Broadway District, offered servicemen nights of dancing, entertainment, food and nonalcoholic drinks, and even opportunities to hobnob with celebrities during WWII.

Surrounded by a '40s era backdrop of Hollywood glamour and style, the Stage Door Canteen is the newest of venues available at The National World War II Museum for your special event. You can customize a savory menu, by New Orleans' own award-winning chef John Besh, that will delight your guests.

With seating capacity up to 285, the Stage Door Canteen is the perfect venue for business networking, a celebration, an awards ceremony, rehearsal dinner or holiday party. The Museum offers a wide range of additional services such as decor, audio/visual, entertainment and other services quoted upon receipt of your specifications. Full service, turn key services are available by our professional, on-site staff.

Our state-of-the-art, digitally enabled multi-media venues can show everything from a graphic sales presentation to a feature film. In addition to the four story atrium of the Louisiana Memorial Pavillion, the National World War II Museum can accommodate auditorium-style events in ojne of our many spaces such as the Victory Theater, Malcolm S. Forbes Theater, or the USS Arizona or USS Missouri Conference Rooms, perfect for film, video, PowerPoint or other media-based presentations.
